

THE GRAND PIANO

As I sat down to play the first note, I was filled with memories from my ancient past, of my wife`s faint kiss on my cheek but she fades away sadly but I should be joining her soon.

Then as I played quicker, I could hear rapid-fire crackling, from gun fire in the distance, a crystal clear shot and I was paralysed in shock. I did not know what to do...I`m so sorry friend. This is my fault I should have told you to stay behind the wall.
